

Science of Kindness

“ Helping children to focus on acts of kindness leads them to want to help, share, and comfort each other, even those who may be different from them. These are important keys to inclusion and building positive communities.

*-Greater Good In Action,
University of California, Berkeley,
2021*